

Graphic organizers provide ways to organize ideas or information visually, thus deepening understanding and increasing retention. Below are three different types of graphic organizers that summarize some important study skills for university students.

Hierarchical Chart: How to Learn in a University Setting

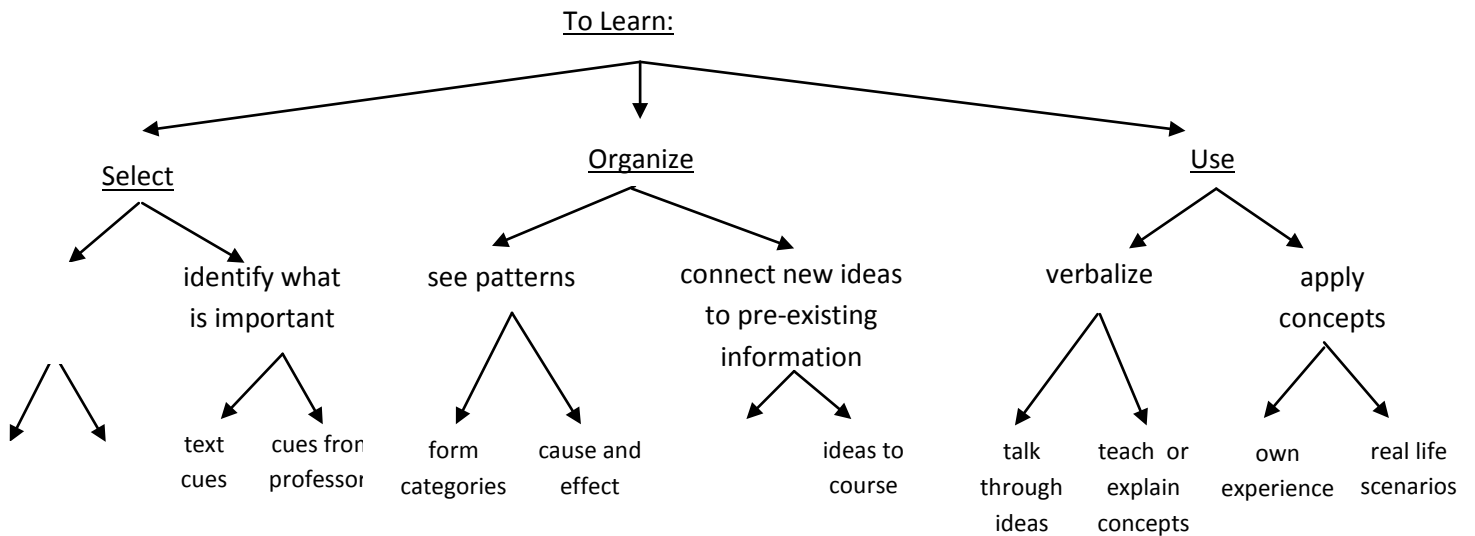

Table: Describing Types of Study

Kind of Study	Approximate Time Frame	Example
Memorizing	Short, repeated sessions (20-30 minutes)	Biology: parts of the eye French: vocabulary, verbs
Reading	Medium length, focused sessions (45-60 minutes)	(Partial) Textbook chapter Journal article
Writing	Longer sessions with breaks (60+ minutes)	Research paper, English essay, lab report
Problem Solving	Longer sessions with breaks (60+ minutes)	Math, Chemistry, Stats, Accounting problems

Maps: Strategies for Remembering

